Which two benefits should you identify? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

A. increased IT budget

B. reduced compliance responsibility

C. decreased risk of paying non-compliance fines

D. decreased licensing costs

Correct Answer: CD

A good SAM plan helps you avoid financial penalties and legal costs by ensuring that your licenses are compliant, and helps prevent any potential damage to your reputation that could arise from a lawsuit. SAM can also help you achieve compliance with government regulations that require strict standards of IT governance and controls.

The complexities of managing software assets across an organization make controlling costs a big challenge and can leave you feeling financially vulnerable. Implementing a solid SAM plan controls your costs with standardization throughout the software life cycle. You can thereby secure the information needed to choose the most cost-effective licensing programs, provide better IT forecasting for budgeting, and receive tax benefits associated with software depreciation.
